

DUNWICH DYNAMO XXXIV

- This is NOT a race.
- You can feed, water and rest at late-opening pubs and cafes, or roadside pop-ups. Don't rely on them. Plan ahead. Buy food in East London.
- Take care. Show lights in low-light conditions. Ride with maximum attention to your own, other rider's and the public's SAFETY.
- If you feel sleepy stop and nap.
- Have a great ride.
- See you on the beach.
- Bon Route
- Bon Tour
- Bon Courage

DO NOT DISTURB

Please be quiet near homes in the small hours. People are sleeping and we have ALL the rest of Essex and Suffolk in which to exchange information.

The welcome given to those following depends on YOUR courtesy and consideration.

There's more than one road to Dunwich. The one suggested overleaf works.

for your diary...

DUNWICH DYNAMO XXXV

July 17-18th 2027

the legend continues

dunwichdynamo.org

KEY to route information overleaf

S/O = Straight on.

T = T junction.

@ = Roundabout.

SP = Signpost.

TL = Traffic Lights.

Places and streets printed in BLOCK CAPITALS are visited en-route, lower-case is for those mentioned on signs but not visited.

If you're off the route head for a place mentioned in BLOCK CAPITALS to rejoin it.

No litter please.

Your sweetie wrappers and dead tubes aren't holy relics. If you drop them you put the future of this event in jeopardy. You carried them out, You take them home.

Please remind others not to embarrass themselves.

If you need assistance to get back to London trains from Ipswich don't carry bikes until late on Monday. Retrace West to Sudbury to catch a train via Chelmsford.

Ride North to Lowestoft to go to London via Cambridge.

Go South to Felixstowe where – weather permitting – a small ferry will take you across Harwich harbour into Essex. For trains from Harwich to London.

Good Luck

Barry Mason 1950~2011 TONIGHT AND FOREVER